Thirty years ago, Nov. 9, 1989, the Berlin Wall fell, in a political and moral earthquake that rippled across central and eastern Europe, toppling one government after another. In the aftershocks, the rest of the Soviet Union collapsed, freeing 400 million people. But why? Barbara J. Elliott served President Reagan in The White House and then reported television news from Europe for PBS. She interviewed numerous people behind the Iron Curtain to find out what really happened. Her book, Candles Behind the Wall: Heroes of the Peaceful Revolution that Shattered Communism, reveals that this was no ordinary revolution.
